

Kansas-Missouri International Dyslexia Association (KS-MO IDA)

Student Scholarship Guidelines

August, 2017

Goals of the Scholarship Program: Students with dyslexia/language based learning disabilities often fall behind their peers at school in reading - not just because they have difficulty decoding, but also because they cannot access the material in books the same way as their peers without dyslexia. To help close that gap and to help level the playing field, the Kansas-Missouri branch of the International Dyslexia Association is providing reimbursement scholarships for privately purchased student Learning Ally subscriptions. Learning Ally accounts allow students with dyslexia/specific learning disabilities in reading or reading comprehension to access audiobooks that also have a visual component to them, which can help both auditory and auditory/visual learners.

We understand the many expenses that parents incur in order to obtain appropriate, evidence based tutoring for their children with dyslexia. These scholarships are intended to help offset the many costs parents have by providing students access to audiobooks. Providing these scholarships helps the KS-MO bistate branch of IDA fulfill its mission, taking the lead from the International Dyslexia Association, whose motto is "Until All Can Read."

Scholarship Committee: The Scholarship Committee consists of a diverse group of parents and professionals, including KS-MO IDA Board Members, teachers and administrators from both Kansas and Missouri.

Eligible Applicants:

*Applicants must be a current student in Kansas or Missouri in grades K - 12 with a diagnosed learning disability (private or school-based diagnosis)

*Applicants must have purchased a personal 1-year Learning Ally account subscription between June 1, 2017 and November 15, 2017 and have the receipt for it to submit to the scholarship committee for reimbursement.
